HOWARD SENTENCED.

Date Fixed for December 7. But May Not Hang For 4 Months.

Frankfort, Sept. 30.—Jim Howard was yesterday sentenced to be hanged December 7 for the murder of Gov. Goebel. Judge Cantrill overruling the motion for a new trial. The sentence was suspended for sixty days, pending an appeal to the Court of Appeals. In response to the affidavit of B. Leander Guffy, that Howard was not in the Executive building at the time of the assassination, the Commonwealth filed a counter-affidavit of John W. Ray, of Carlisle county, that Guffy said on the day of the shooting that Goebel would never be Governor and that he would be killed before the joint Assembly met. The affidavit of Mr. Ray will be brought before the January grand jury.

The case can not reach the higher court until the first week in December. If taken up at once, which is not likely, it would hardly be decided before the 10th of December, three days after the time fixed for the execution. If the judgment of the lower court be affirmed the defense then has thirty days to file a petition for rehearing, so that in any event the condemned can not be hanged for four months, and then the Governor will have the fixing of the day of execution.

Howard's strongest hope now is that Yerkes may be elected and pardon him before the case is finally decided.

JUDGE HALL NOMINATED.

Seventh Appellate Court District Convention at Winchester.

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 29.—The convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for judge of the court of appeals for the Seventh district has brought numerous prominent Democrats from the Tenth congressional district, as well as the portions of the Ninth and Eleventh districts, embraced in the twenty-four counties of the Seventh appellate district. Without exception they report the party in good shape in their respective counties. An aggressive fight is being made all along the line.

The convention was called to order by District Chairman D. W. Gardner. Judge Robert Riddell was named as chairman and W. T. Havens, of Mt. Sterling, as secretary, and the temporary organization was made permanent. Judge W. Floyd Hall, of Harlan county, was placed in nomination by Judge Benton, of Clark; Pollard, of Breathitt, and Lykins, of Wolfe, and on motion the nomination was made by acclamation. Judge Hall accepted the nomination in a rousing speech. Every county in the district was represented but Leslie, and much enthusiasm was displayed.

The Democrats are claiming Hopkins county by 800 majority.

The official vote in the Sixth district primary, is Gooch 5,365, Rhinock 5,071, Berry 4,793. Gooch beat Rhinock 274 and Berry 552.

The number of postage stamps used during the last fiscal year was five and one-third billions, valued at $98,000,000.

The population of Memphis, Tenn., is 102,320, a gain of 65 per cent. from 1890 to 1900. The population of Houston, Tex., is 44,633, a gain of nearly 62 per cent.

Now that the fair is over, let the campaign committee get down to work and organize a Democratic club in every precinct in the county within the next ten days.

There are now eight Democratic clubs in Christian county with an aggregate membership of 500 members. Other clubs will be organized this week.

The Franklin county grand jury did not return any new indictments in the Goebl assassination case. A report was made giving as a reason for failing to do so the great difficulty in securing the attendants and of mountain witnesses.

At the Methodist Conference at Elizabethtown, two ministers were tried and deposed from the ministry for immoral conduct. Rev. E. P. Crowe, of Owensboro, was charged with drunkenness and Rev. L. M. Russell, of Eddyville, with writing a love letter to one of the married sisters of his church.

The political situation in Christian county is improving as the issues of the campaign become more clearly defined. Among the 1000 names already signed to the pledge at Democratic headquarters are quite a number of the Cold Democrats who refused to vote for Bryan in 1896 and some Brown Democrats who voted against Goebl last year. There are also several voters heretofore known as Republicans who have enrolled their names. In 1896 there were about 300 anti-Bryan Democrats and in 1899 probably half as many anti-Goebl Democrats. In some instances the same men are included in both classes. Probably three-fourths of these voters will this year vote against government by force and assassination. The others have long since ceased to be Democrats and have allied themselves with the Taylor-Yerkes crowd in state and national politics. In the election last year many colored voters for the first time voted the Democratic ticket without being asked to do so. Some prominent negroes in Hopkinsville have registered as Democrats. It is estimated that at least 100 colored men voted for Goebl and it is believed that even more will vote the Democratic ticket this year. The Democratic gain last year in Christian county in 27 precincts was 725 votes over the 18% majority for McKinley. The Republican majority was only 655, with 500 Democrats not voting. With a full vote this year the campaign committee is very hopeful of reducing it to 500 votes. The known changes alone justify this claim, even on the same vote last year.

"I don't know of a purer piece of hypocrisy than the hypocrisy of the Republican who defends the Sulu treaty and condemns the constitutional amendments in the Southern States. Under the Sulu treaty the flag floats over the Sulu Sultan's palace, and under Section 10 it is provided that the slaves can buy their liberty at the market price when they earn enough to do so, working at nothing a day. If you find there is a race question in this country that will require all the patriotism and the intelligence of people of North and South, to solve, is it a reason why you should drag in another race question? Is it a reason why you should bring into this country 8,000,000 brown people not to share in the destiny of this country? There is not a Republican in a position to discuss the negro question. The Republican party has taken the negro for thirty years to an office door and then they are on the outside. The negro has bestowed Presidents on the Republican party, and the Republican party has given to the negro janitorships in return."—Bryan at Fargo, N. D.

Judge W. F. Hall, the Democratic nominee to succeed Judge Hazelrigg on the Appellate Bench, is a young man of 42 years, who is said to resemble Wm. Goebl more closely than his own brothers. He has proven himself to be the most popular Democrat in Harlan and adjoining counties, having been elected Circuit Judge once in a district coming within 280 votes of a re-election in 1896. Outside of these counties the appellate district in Democratic and Judge Hall's election over O'Rear is confidently claimed by the mountain Democrats, who are united and enthusiastic.

It is not considered safe for Gov. Beckham and other state officers to canvass the Eleventh district, but the 13,000 intrepid Democrats of that Republican stronghold are taking care of themselves in superb style. Jas. D. Black, Ben. V. Smith, Chas. W. Metcalf, N. B. Hays, W. F. Hall, James Garrett, Jr., and other fine speakers are on the stump and "bearding the lion in his den." The Democrats expect to take a big slice off that 16,000 majority turned in last year.

The Elizabethtown News last week got out a very handsome and attractive illustrated edition in pamphlet form. It sets out the advantages of Elizabethtown and Harlan county and is a great advertisement for both and a credit to the enterprise of its capable editor, Mr. H. A. Sommers.

The strike of the Pennsylvania coal miners is still unsettled, though there are many rumors of a settlement.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but sometimes inherited. How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruption, skin rashes or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor and general debility. How are they expelled? By Hood's Sarsaparilla which also builds up the system that has suffered from them. It is the best of all medicines for all humors.

Wm. E. Curtis, himself a Republican, in the Chicago Record reviews the New York situation for his paper as follows:

"The Democrats are gaining confidence in Bryan's election. I do not mean the gentlemen at headquarters, who furnish 'hot air' without cost or limit and assure you in whispers that they have received reliable, confidential reports from everywhere that everybody is going to support Bryan and that he will have more votes than he wants, but I refer to the outside man who doesn't know much about it, but has opinions based upon what he hears from his friends in different parts of the country. The Republicans are losing confidence, too. They are no longer taking it for granted that McKinley is invincible and scoffing at those who intimate that he is not. The betting is running toward Bryan also, and that is the best barometer of the public sentiment. Two months ago the McKinley rosters were offering odds of 4 and 5 to 1. When Bryan abandoned the silver issue the betting was 2 to 1 and then 5 to 2 to 1, and the odds have kept getting smaller with every large bet until now the McKinley men will give no better than 2 to 1. Mr. Croker has invested $100,000 of his hard-earned savings in bets that average 2½ to 1, so that if Bryan is elected he will win a quarter of a million dollars, and that is an inducement for him to be loyal and carry the state of New York, as he is trying to do. He is also encouraging his friends and hangers to bet also."

Congressman Allen will canvass the county this week speaking in seven districts. He will find clubs in three of them. Let Herndon, Bainbridge, Crofton and Bluff Springs each organize a good working club when he speaks.

The state of Mississippi will this week make five-year contracts for school books, through the county boards, and competition has been so lively that very low rates will be secured.

They are still finding 20 or 30 dead bodies a day at Galveston as the street cleaning progresses.

THREE FIRES

Within Two Years, Had Farmer W. H. Sims.

The large tobacco barn of Mr. W. H. Sims, who lives a few miles west of Cerulean, burned one night last week. The building was well filled with a good quality of the weed and Mr. Sims' loss is about two thousand dollars. He had finished curing the tobacco the week before, but built a fire to dry out the barn, when the weed in some way became ignited. He had no insurance and the loss is a heavy one. A lot of machinery stored in the building was also destroyed.

Mr. Sims has suffered by fire three times within the past few years. About two years ago his dwelling burned, entailing a heavy loss. Shortly after that time he had a stable and contents, including eight head of mules, to burn. He had no insurance on any of the property destroyed, we are informed.

DWELLING GUTTED.

One of Occupants Had Narrow Escape With Life.

The residence of John Pindexter, col., situated on Hays street, was destroyed by fire Saturday night about 11 o'clock. Very little of the furniture was saved. The fire originated in the kitchen, and owing to the combustible nature of the building, which was a four room cottage, the flames spread rapidly, and the building was soon gutted.

The fire department was promptly on hand and did some fire work, thus saving the building near by.

Pindexter was away from home and his wife had retired and was asleep. She was pulled from the bed just in time to escape in her night clothes as the roof fell in.

The loss is about $800. Partially insured.

BASSETT & CO. VICTIMS

Of a Small Burglary Some Time Saturday Night.

Some time Saturday night Bassett & Co.'s store was burglarized, but the thief only secured $161. An entrance was effected by breaking the glass in a side window and lowering the upper sash. The cash drawer was broken open. The goods, it seems, were not molested, as nothing in the merchandise line was missed. The thief unlocked the rear door and got away without leaving a clue.

BOTH IN JAIL.

Will Winters Returned to Tennessee and Was Captured.

Will Winters, who was with his brother, John Winters, at the time the latter shot and killed Torrence Wootton near New Providence, has been captured and placed in jail at Clarksville. John Winters, it will be remembered, was arrested at Crofton last week and taken to Clarksville.

Will Winters, it is claimed, had also been in hiding near this city, but ventured over the Tennessee line and was soon taken in.

BURGLARY AT CROFTON.

Residence Entered And Articles of Value Stolen.

Crofton, Ky., Oct. 1.—The dwelling house of Mrs. Brock Hord, of this place, was entered last night by thieves, in the absence of the family, and robbed of about $30 worth of goods. Among the articles taken were a 38 pistol, an overcoat and a pair of pants belonging to Mrs. Hord's son. Two suspicious-looking tramps were in town the night before and the authorities at Hopkinsville were notified to be on the lookout for them.

MARRY THIS EVENING.

Well Known North Christian Couple to Wed.

Mr. J. M. Adcox, a well known young North Christian farmer, and Miss Ida Renshaw, a very pretty and popular young lady, of the county, will be married at the home of the bride's parents this evening at 8 o'clock.

Waived Examination.

The Union county abortionist, Dr. W. E. Clark, of Sturgis, charged with the murder of Miss Dora Waller, has waived examination and will remain in the Henderson jail for the present. He will be very lucky if he escapes with an unbroken neck.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

Henry Roper Slugged By a Footpad in Elkton.

Mr. Henry R. Roper, one of the editors and publishers of this paper, was painfully injured while walking from the depot to his home Monday night at about 8:30 o'clock. When just below Lowry's factory he was set upon by some unknown party, who struck him with a heavy instrument of some description, inflicting two ugly gashes just above the right eye, the flesh being penetrated to the skull. This wound, while not serious, is very painful. Mr. Roper's spine was fractured at the end, and Dr. McKinney, who attended the injured man, thinks this was caused by his falling when struck.

The 7:30 train arrived just at the time of the accident, and in making a switch Grooms Conley, a colored brakeman, saw Mr. Roper lying near the track and a man bending over him. This man, he says, fled when he saw he was observed. There is absolutely no clue which would lead to the detection of the guilty party.—Elkton Times.

For Housekeepers.

It has been brought to the attention of this paper that a baking powder is offered for sale here which contains alum.

Alum is unfit for food, producing indigestion, alum heart, sallow complexion, constipation and attendant ills. It is not fair to our people that such a substance disguised as a baking powder should be sold in order to allow a maker or a grocer a little more profit, regardless of the health of the family.

Good baking powder costs about forty-five cents a pound. Alum baking powder is sold for twenty-five cents a pound or less. The difference in cost between a good and wholesome baking powder and an alum powder would not exceed a dollar for a whole year's supply. People are very foolish to take the risk and suffer ill health for the sake of a few pennies, which after all are not saved.

Good baking powder is one of the most useful things in the household, and we seriously urge our readers to save their health and money also in the end, by insisting upon having a good brand like Royal, Dr. Price's or Cleveland's.

If requested to do so by our subscribers, we will publish the name of the Alum baking powder sold here.

John D. White at Princeton.

Princeton, Ky., Sept. 29.—The Hon. John D. White, Prohibition candidate for Governor, spoke at the courthouse this afternoon to a fair-sized crowd. The Republicans rallied around him, but when he spoke of state issues they began to get restless and disappear one by one until only a few were left to tell the story.

Broke His Arm.

Mr. Press Robinson, traveling salesman for W. B. Belknap & Co., Louisville, broke his right arm near the wrist in this city last night just after dark by falling headfirst through the open cellar door in rear of Grady's cellar door.—Todd Co. Democrat.

Consumption

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home.

Take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and live carefully every way. This is sound doctrine, whatever you may think or be told; and, if heeded, will save life.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample. Its agreeable taste will surprise you.

REGISTER TO-DAY.

City Voters Must Qualify Themselves by 9 O'clock p. m.

The annual registration of voters in four city precincts is in progress to-day and the polls will be open until 9 o'clock to-night. All persons in the city to-day who do not register, unless prevented by sickness, when registering, will lose their votes next month. The residence qualifications of a voter are one year in State, six months in the county and 60 days in the precinct, and voters who will be entitled to vote Nov. 6 are entitled to register. There are four precincts in the city. All persons living north of Seventh and west of the L. & N. railroad vote at the Court House. Those north of seventh and east of the L. & N. railroad, vote at Wheeler's warehouse. Those south of seventh and west of Clay to 18th and thence west of railroad vote at the post office. Those south of seventh and east of above described line vote at Gaither's warehouse or Center's store as the case may be.

The following officers, divided equally as to politics, are conducting the registrations:

Gracey.

—ON—

Thursday, Oct. 4,

AT 3 P. M.,

there will be an auction sale of town lots to the highest bidder. These are good residence lots and are well located of good size with broad streets and alleys.

Gracey is a thriving, hustling town with schools, churches and factories and surrounded by as fine farming lands as any town in Kentucky. It has good railroad facilities, the L. & N. and I. C. railroads. There is no better town in the state to plant a few dollars. They will bring a rich harvest in a short time. Did you ever think real estate is the foundation of all wealth? That it can not "bust" like the bank, that it grows in value while you sleep, that it gives the owner credit and standing.

There are about 30 of these lots and we are going to sell them. Come out and get the first choice, bring your friends with you. No man ever failed to make money by investing in real estate in a good, live town like Gracey.

Remember the date, Thursday, Oct. 4, at 3 p. m.

Terms: 1-3 cash, balance 1 and 2 years, 6 per cent. For plat, see

BIG CROWDS.

The Elks Fair Closed With a Mammoth Parade Saturday.

There was a rain Friday night and Saturday morning the weather was still cloudy, but there was no serious interference with the industrial parade that closed the street fair program. The parade was very long and there were more than 50 floats, carriages and other vehicles in the line. Nearly all of the principal lines of business in the city were represented and many of the floats were very gorgeous affairs.

Those having floats in the parade were R. E. Cooper & Co., life size elk made of tobacco; Gaither & West, hands prying tobacco; Wooldrige & Co., inspectors and brokers sampling and selling tobacco; Tandy & Eckles, mammoth hoghead 15 feet in diameter; Forbes & Bro., several departments on four floats; Racket Store, A. S. White & Bro., coal wagon; Acme Mills, W. T. Cooper & Co., New Era, J. H. Dagg & Co., Crescent Milling Co. and others.

Among the vehicles decorated were those of Edgar Renshaw, Chas. F. Jarrett, J. T. Edmunds, Miss Trainum, Sam Frankel, A. P. Harness, M. H. Tandy, Mrs. J. M. Green, H. M. Dalton, West & Lee, Anderson & Fowler, Miss Mary Ware, J. N. McGinnis, A. M. Wallis, "Pond River" farm wagon, E. B. Clark, L. & N. Railroad, Greer Bros., etc.

The attendance at the Fire works Thursday night was estimated at 4,000. Friday and Saturday there was an outpouring of people, probably 10,000 or 12,000 being in the city Saturday. Saturday night the fair broke up with a confetti battle and everybody had a jolly time.

There was not a single arrest inside the Park during the week and very few in the city. But little drunkenness was seen and the absence of disorder of all kinds was very noticeable.

The fair was a great success in every respect.

The ball Friday night was a very brilliant gathering and was attended by many visitors from surrounding cities.

THE WILY CHINESE.

Mogollans in the United States All from the South and "Good Boys."

"I would be willing to bet a house to a houseful," said an observant citizen, "that you can't discover a native of North China in this country at present with 40 search warrants."

Ever since the eastern situation became serious, our Mogollan residents have been wearing out their larynxes in assuring the public that they come from the immediate neighborhood of Hong-Kong, on the extreme south coast, and wouldn't know a Boxer from a buzz saw.

According to their statements the South China man, or Cantonese, and the North China man, or Manchurian, have nothing in common except pigtail and bias eyes. The Cantonese is a good boy, who goes to mission Sunday school, minds his teacher, loves the Melian man, does on tracts and never holds out collars in the week's wash.

The Manchurian, on the contrary, is a tough citizen. He plays ten-pin, hits the pipe whenever he feels like it, eats rats, ties firecrackers to policemen's coats and likes missionaries-boiled. There are no

Manchurians in the United States. Our Chinese colonies are composed exclusively of virtuous Cantonese.

Moreover, the two tribes speak different languages. If a Manchurian were to say: "Come, Hop Luns! let's stroll out and fry a few missionaries," the chances are that Hop would think he was being invited to attend a church social and would go under an entire misapprehension as to the character of the entertainment. Consequently Hop would be innocent of crime. I dare say all this is perfectly true, and the zeal with which the Chinese all over the country are pressing their disclaimers is certainly interesting. The bare mention of Pekin makes their pigtail stand on end. The other day a very meek, fat Chinaman called at my house for some washing. I wasn't sure he belonged to the right laundry, and I said: "John, do you come from North?" I intended to say "North Rampart street," but he cut me short. "No! no! he shrieked, pitiously, 'no elum dum North!'"

Me no Bloose—me Canton boy! And he got incoherent and made a bolt for the door. I haven't seen him since."

A PECULIAR FISH.

Accidentally Fell Into Its Native Element and Was Drowned.

Shooting and Fishing is responsible for the following story: There was once a man who believed habit governs everything, and so one day when he caught a fish he thought he would make an experiment to prove his theory. He put the fish in a tub of water and every day he would go there and put in a spafeful of dirt, making the fish less and less accustomed to its native element. Finally the tub was full of dirt, but by that time the fish was so accustomed to dirt that it was not only still alive, but very vigorous. By and by the fish had got so in the habit of being out of water that it spent its time flopping around the yard and about the house and slept in a box on the porch. At last he caught a fish he thought he would make an experiment to prove his theory. When he went out would follow him, flopping along the street and attracting everybody's attention. The fish followed him so much that the man began to get tired of it, and tied the fish up at the house to keep it from flopping along behind him. One day he started out from home, and he had gone a good way, when he heard the fish flopping behind him. The distance was so great to his home that the man, rather than carry the fish back, let it flop on behind him. At last he came to a creek over which was a foot log, and the fish flopped upon it, and started over. When it got midway it flopped overboard and was drowned.

Counsel Fee.

"Before I agree to undertake your defense," said the eminent criminal lawyer who had been called in, "you will have to be perfectly frank with me and tell me the whole truth. Did you embezzle the $20,000 you are accused of having taken?"

"Yes, sir," replied the accused man. "I'll not attempt to conceal the fact from you. I stole every penny of it."

"How much of it have you left?"

"It's all gone but about ten pounds."

"Young man," said the eminent lawyer, putting on his gloves, "you'd better plead guilty and throw yourself on the mercy of the court."

"I'll do it if you say so, sir. What are you going to charge me for the advice?"

"Ten pounds," The King.

How many times have we spent the money we have lost?

A man talks about owning his business. But, as a matter of fact his business owns him. His whole life is regulated by the demands of the business. The time at which he rises, his breakfast hour, the time given to meals, are all determined by business obligations. He rushes through lunch because he can't spare the time from business to eat leisurely. He won't take a rest because he is needed at the store or office. He is in fact an absolute slave to business. The results which follow this slavery are to be seen on every hand. Men dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, with drawn faces, and hollow eyes, sit at the desk or stand behind the counter until they collapse in a fit of sickness, or are taken away by heart failure. Those who cannot escape the exactions of business will find a friend in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, increases the action of the blood-making glands, increasing the vitality and physical vigor. It makes men strong and prevents the nervous breakdowns which so often terminate fatally.

AN INDIAN ARSENAL.

Over Two Thousand Arrowheads Found Buried Under a Stone.

Among the collections of Indian relics owned in this state probably the finest, with one exception, is owned by Herbert Southmayd, who lives on the Haddam Quarter road, in the town of Durham, says the Chester (Conn.) correspondent of the Hartford Courant. A large part of them were found by Mr. Southmayd himself, as he is a confirmed relic hunter and knows many of the caves and camping grounds used by the tribes of this state. White flint, black flint, rose quartz, red and yellow jasper, chert and glass stone were found in the manufacture of 3,000 arrowheads varying from the size of a thumb nail to those nearly as large as a hand. His axes include the fine-edged, highly-polished tool to the rough, unfinished specimens. He has 30 of these, one of which weighs seven pounds, while the smallest turns the scales at 16 ounces.

Of his 11 pestles the longest measures 14 1/2 inches in length. Gouges used by the Indians in working out the inside of logs which they had first charred in making their canoes, number 20. There are ten five-pointed spears of size and 12 chisels. Of his three pipes the one he values most highly is a short-stemmed, perfect-bowled, and was found a few miles from his home. It looks much like a common clay pipe of to-day, excepting the color, which is that of red clay. The breastplates are notched around the edges, a notch for each battle the wearer was engaged in. On one of them can be counted 65 notches, denoting either a chieftain or a warrior.

There are three war club heads, and a dozen hide scrapers, used in cleaning the hides from which their clothing and tents were made. Among the most interesting specimens to the ordinary man and which cause a peculiar sensation as their use is explained are the three scalp knives. A string of wampum was taken from a skeleton found in Portland. A red clay kettle is absolutely perfect. A bone ornament found in a cave is considered very valuable, as but few of them are in existence. The hide used in making the holes for the leather thong in their moccasins and skin canoe show great skill and patience, as they are nothing but stones with which they tapered them from about the size of a pencil down to a sharp point. Of these he has 15.

Brass arrowheads and a quiver divide honors with iron tomahawks. During a rainstorm a year or two ago Walter Lane sought shelter under a shelving rock at North Guilford, and while stirring the ground up to ascertain what depth has been made by the decay leaves he was surprised to find an arrowhead. He renewed effort brought out 35 of them. Returning the next day with spade and sieve, he dug out 1,200 specimens, and from evidences found it was doubtless a spot where they were made and laid away against the time of need. Over 2,000 have been taken from that spot.

KIND QUEEN MARGHERITA.

An American Writes How She Has Endured Herself to Her Italian People.

An American woman abroad says: "Queen Margherita is, in the parlance of her Alpine subjects, 'our kind queen' with a strong emphasis on the word 'kind.' She charms every one with whom she comes in contact. A little housemaid in the mountain hostelry of Casa Yanzo, where the queen stopped on two of her excursions from Gressoney, said: 'The queen patted my cheek. Just think how friendly is our kind queen! She is far more affable than even her lady in waiting.'"

"The 'kind queen' heard of a peasant girl who had met with an accident and broken her leg. Forthwith her majesty dispatched a messenger with inquiries and a present, and a promise of a carriage to convey the doctor and patient to the nearest hospital, within a whole day's drive from where the accident happened. In one of her long walks Queen Margherita passed the charred remnants of the hamlet of Santa Antonio. She made instant inquiries as to the condition of the burned-out families, and the result was that each family received a $20 note from the queen—a veritable fortune in a poor valley, and being wholly unexpected, a most welcome fortune, too. To a foreigner it may seem a trifling sum, but to some Italian peasants whose industry is as great as their poverty, the queen devised an enchanting surprise, making the stranger the channel of the royal bounty to number of Piedmontese toilers. These are random but typical instances of the queen's tactful kindness."—Philadelphia Record.
